

Double Spending for School Is Recommended

By BETTY PRYOR

WASHINGTON (UP)—A presidential committee said today that if Americans want decent schools for their children they must be prepared to double their present spending on education. The recommendation that total U. S. school spending be boosted to $20 billion a year "within the next decade" was the highlight of a 50,000-word report submitted to President Eisenhower at a White House ceremony. The report was prepared by the 34-member committee for the White House Conference on Education. Mr. Eisenhower appointed the committee of prominent citizens last year to organize "the most thorough study" ever made of the nation's school system.

The committee also recommended:— "Emergency" federal aid to states to build 200,000 new classrooms as speedily as possible.

— "Substantial increases" in teachers salaries, with a view toward eventually doubling present pay scales.

— Providing "basic health and safety services" to students in parochial and other private schools "at public expense."

— Calling a "White House conference on higher education" to study the problems of colleges and universities.

The committee called for "a new look at the entire question of how much money this society should spend on education."

"In the richest nation in all history, there is no valid reason for the grimy, dilapidated and overcrowded school buildings which too many children now occupy," it said. "Most Americans would not permit their children to live in a house which is as bad as the school buildings which many pupils are forced to attend."

Declaring that "the dollars spent on education in this nation should be approximately doubled" in the next decade, the committee said:

"The schools have become the chief instrument for keeping this nation the fabled land of opportunity. It started out to be. It is primarily the school which allows no man's failure to prevent the success of his son."

The committee estimates that billion a year is now being spent on public and private elementary and secondary schools.

Man Falsely Imprisoned Plans Future

CHICAGO (AP)—A man wrongfully imprisoned for 16 years says, now that he's free, he's free, he'll "settle down somewhere, join a church and live the life I dreamed about."

Roy E. Eaton, 52, talked amiably with newsmen yesterday—his first full day of freedom after authorities finally untangled a jumble of confusion and mistaken identity which sent him to Stateville Penitentiary for armed robbery in 1940.

His lawyer, Robert J. Gorman, whom Eaton came to Chicago to visit, said the Illinois Legislature would be petitioned to pay Eaton a "substantial sum" for the unjust imprisonment.

Eaton, a little man with thinning brown hair, left the penitentiary Wednesday with $89.51, of which $50 was given him by the warden. The remainder came from money he made working in the prison garment factory.

He spent some of the money for a wrist watch and a loud sport shirt.

Eaton said he planned to find and visit a grown daughter whose identity he declined to divulge. Eaton related that his wife divorced him several years ago and that he had lost contact with her.

State's Atty. Bernard J. Moran of Rock Island, investigated Eaton's case for two years and obtained the evidence which he said showed Eaton had been wrongly identified as one of the two men who robbed a salesman of $50.

VICTIM OF RABIES
STANTON, Ky. (AP)—A constant bedside vigil was kept today by an 84-year-old father whose son is feared to be a victim of rabies.

Roy Dunn, 15, became ill a week ago and has been, subject to violent seizures. The family said he told of being bitten by mad dogs.

Memie Dunn, father of 24 children, also is worried about five others. A representative of the state health dept. will use tests on Roy to decide whether four brothers and a sister should take rabies treatments. All were bitten by the boy while caring for him, they said.

French Battle Arab Rioters, Losses High

ALGIERS, (UP)—French troops are battling Arab guerrillas on the fringes of the Sahara desert with "high losses on both sides," the French command announced today.

The French are pushing reinforcements to the scene of the battle, in the sun-parched Nememch mountains about 110 miles south of the East Algerian provincial capital of Constantine.

The action started yesterday, when a French motorized patrol trailed a strong guerrilla force into a dry riverbed on the slopes of the Nememch. The Arabs tried to slip away during the night, but the French forces stuck to their trail.

In Libya, the official organ Tarabous said King Idris has appealed to President Eisenhower to "end French shedding of Arab blood" in Algeria.

The official paper said Idris handed a message to U. S. Ambassador John Tapp in Tobruk yesterday, asking for "active intervention" by the President to halt the "savagery and barbaric deeds of French forces and the massacres of the Arabs."

Compromise Farm Bill to Take Form

BY EDWIN B. HAKINSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise election-year farm bill takes on its final form today.

A 10-members Senate-House conference committee meets to act formally on the tentative agreements it reached during two weeks of efforts to combine the differing programs of the two houses.

All the earlier decisions were open to revision in the final voting, but leaders of the conferees said they expected only minor changes, if any.

"We'll stay in session until we wind this up," said Sen. Ellender (D-La.), chairman of the conference group. He expressed hope of approval by late afternoon.

The imminence of conference committee final action apparently caused Secretary of Agriculture Benson to cut short a visit to Salt Lake City. He flew back to Washington last night, explaining before takeoff he was doing so "in response to an official call to duty."

Representatives and senators are due back Monday from a 10-day Easter recess. The House will act first, possibly Wednesday.

Rep. Cooley (D-N.C.), chairman of the House Agriculture Committee and head of its conferees, told newsmen he is confident the compromise will clear the House by a safe margin.

"The farm situation has deteriorated," he said, since the House voted 208-201 last May 5 to return to higher, rigid price supports on five basic crops.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said in Johnson City, Tex., he expects both the Senate and the House to complete action on the bill next week.

Many Americans Are Unaware That a Man Among Them Can Plunge Them All Into a War

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Most of the 105 to 170 million Americans do not quite realize that one man among them can by one word plunge them all into war.

The word is "Attack." The one man who can lawfully say the word is the President of the United States.

The power of the president as commander in chief of the nation's armed forces is sometimes forgotten or overlooked by the voters who elect a president.

The U. S. Senate may have to approve a foreign treaty to make it legal, and only Congress can declare war. But is the President who can order at any time that the Navy, the Army or the Air Force should go into action—naturally on an emergency basis. This means you can have a war before it's voted.

All big wars usually start from military pimples. There is a border. Each side complains the other violates the border. There is a period of mutual blame and mutual hollers of innocence. It's the other fellow who is wrong.

Final one of the fellows crosses the border is real power—and doesn't stop. The reaction has come, at once, or later, when he is stretched out and more vulnerable. But he has lit a small match and set a big world on fire, and in time the flames at great cost will consume him, his empire and his dreams. Sometimes even his relatives.

This is the history of war. No man in history could be more aware of the effect of a military decision than a former artillery captain called Harry Truman who made the greatest single military decision in the long story of the human race.

Louisiana Town Hit by Tornado

BASKIN, La. (AP)—A tornado tore through this little northeast Louisiana town last night, destroying one residence and damaging others.

One woman was hospitalized but no serious injuries resulted from the twister, sheriff's deputies said.

Deputy I. J. Wiggins said the twister cut a path about a half mile wide and about three miles long.

Red-Backed Group Claims Ceylon Victory

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—A Communist-backed coalition claimed victory today in Ceylon's general election as the first round of balloting spelled a sharp setback for Prime Minister Sir John Kotelawala's pro-Western party.

Seven of Kotelawala's nine cabinet ministers went down in defeat in the first of three days' balloting. The Premier himself was re-elected to Parliament by a much smaller vote than last time.

Of the 32 parliamentary seats decided the first day, 21 went to the Red-supported Peoples United Front coalition. It is pledged to oust British naval and air bases from this strategic island in the Indian Ocean and several of Ceylon's ties with the British Crown.

Only five of the first seats decided went to Kotelawala's United National party which controlled 54 seats in the last legislature.

Most of the Premier's setbacks were recorded in supposed Nationalist party strongholds.

Opposition leader Solomon West Ridgway Dias Bandaranaike, whose coalition includes Trotskyites and fellow travelers, told newsmen he felt confident he would be Ceylon's next Premier.

Kotelawala's reverses resulted in part from opposition by Ceylon's Buddhist monks. They campaigned against him because he refused to postpone the election until after a May observance of the 2,500th anniversary of Buddha's death.

The island's 3½ million voters will ballot for the remainder of the 95 seats at stake on Saturday and next Tuesday.

Most of the remaining seats are in constituencies where Bandaranaike is strong.

Hope C of C Okays Several Resolutions

Hope Chamber of Commerce today adopted a series of resolutions, all designed for the further prosecution of a wet Millwood Dam.

The number one resolution urged Arkansas Senators John L. McClellan and J. W. Fulbright to join with Congressman Owen Harris in backing the Red River Valley Association's unanimous endorsement of a combination dam and reservoir.

The second resolution called upon Governor Orval Faubus to attend the April 25 hearings before the Rivers and Harbors Commission in Washington in support of the Southwest Arkansas Water District, which is pressing for storage water in Millwood for municipal, industrial and agricultural purposes.

A third resolution was an expression of thanks and appreciation to Louisiana Senator Russell B. Long for his outspoken support of a wet Millwood and his offer to aid at the Washington hearings. Senator Long spoke from the convention floor at the recent Red River Valley Association's 31st annual meeting in Shreveport.

The fourth resolution was an expression of appreciation to Congressman Wright Patman of Texas, and Congressman Overton Brooks of Louisiana, for their expressed interest in a wet Millwood. These expressions also came at the Red River Valley Association convention.

A fifth resolution was an expression of commendation to Roy Mathias, executive secretary of the Red River Valley Association for his untiring efforts in the development over the years of the Red River Valley basin, and for his efforts in behalf of a wet Millwood dam.

Two Killed in Traffic Wreck

WILMOT, (AP)—Two men are dead and another is hospitalized after a traffic mishap near this southeast Arkansas town yesterday.

Wilmot City Marshal Howard Hasty said Elzie Armstrong, 20, was killed instantly when the car he was driving hit a flooded portion of Highway 165 near here and overturned.

James Kidd Jr., 20, a passenger in the car, died early today at a Bascom, La., hospital from injuries suffered in the accident.

Hospital attendants at Bascom said another passenger, Joe Edward Shelman, 20, suffered minor injuries.

Integration Law Must Be Obeyed, Says Stevenson

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson said today that integration "is the law of the land" and he "would only ask that law-abiding citizens comply with it in a lawful manner and as the courts find reasonable and feasible."

Stevenson set forth his position in a speech to the Jacksonville Bar Association during a one-day Florida visit in his bid for the state's 20th national convention votes in the Democratic presidential preferential primary May 29.

"The Supreme Court has said what should be done. The lower courts will say when it should be done in accordance with local conditions. What remains to be settled is how it shall be done," Stevenson said. Desegregation cannot be done "by guns and bayonets. It cannot be done overnight," he added.

Stevenson criticized Sen. E. Kefauver of Tennessee, charged his opponent in the presidential primary is injuring party unity with his tactics and attacking Kefauver's absence from the Senate when major measures were being voted upon.

The former Illinois governor said Kefauver and his supporters "have raised a chorus of indignant denunciation of 'political bosses' and 'machines' trying to freeze him out."

"The fact that he sought the support of many of these same people or that they were on his delegation in 1932 seems to make no difference. A political boss is evidently anyone who prefers Stevenson to Kefauver."

He said he had been getting a lot of advice since his defeat by Kefauver in the Minnesota primary.

"Some people tell me not to talk about the issues so much and to shake more hands. Others urge me to 'give 'em hell.' I think I'll do worse. I'll give 'em the truth," he said.

"And one of the truths is that there may be such a thing as wanting to be president to badly. And they may be one of the reasons why none of Sen. Kefauver's colleagues in the Senate have endorsed him and so few of the party's leaders around the country."

Stevenson said earlier at his Kingsland, Ga., vacation site that if the South should walk out this year the effectiveness of the Democratic party might be destroyed for a long time.

Two Accidents Leave 1 Man Seriously Hurt

The latest word on whether Riesel's eyesight will be lost or impaired came from Dr. Gerallmo Bonaccollo, chief eye surgeon at St. Clare's Hospital.

"The diagnosis is guarded. We will not know for one week. He can see now. He has vision now. He can make out objects and light. It will take, however, about one week before we can tell what the results will be to his vision. Both eyes are damaged, perhaps the right eye more than the left. It is quite serious, but I have hope for the best."

Howard, taken to a Texarkana hospital, suffered a broken neck, and other injuries. His condition was described as critical.

Sheriff Davis of Miller County said Howard's auto struck a truck which was pulling out into the highway from a side road. His car was demolished. The pickup, driven by Mrs. B. W. Ward of Homan also was damaged.

In another accident late yesterday at the Clear Lake Junction on Highway 67 a truck and a school bus loaded with children collided but nobody was injured.

The truck, driven by M. G. Milz of Combes, Texas was going south and the school bus, driver J. R. Hornum of Fulton, was turning north onto the highway from a side road, according to officers. The bus was heavily damaged.

Hunt for Acid Throwing Man Continues

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI and other federal and local agencies today pressed a hunt for the unidentified young man who threw sulphuric acid into the eyes of crusading labor columnist Victor Riesel. Rewards totaling $14,500 have been offered.

Full facilities of the FBI, the city Police Department, the Manhattan district attorney's office and the U. S. attorney's office were mobilized.

State Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits pledged the cooperation of his office in bringing Riesel's assailant to justice. Gov. Averell Harriman said he was "inexpressibly shocked."

The latest word on whether Riesel's eyesight will be lost or impaired came from Dr. Gerallmo Bonaccollo, chief eye surgeon at St. Clare's Hospital.

"The diagnosis is guarded. We will not know for one week. He can see now. He has vision now. He can make out objects and light. Traffic Deaths Almost Doubled

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas' traffic death toll for the first three months of 1956 is nearly twice that of the corresponding period last year.

Traffic mishaps took 100 lives in Arkansas during the period. Last year only 59 road fatalities occurred in the first three months.

Capt. Frank McGibbony of the State Police Traffic Division here said last year's first quarter produced an "excellent" record. He said that was one reason the 1956 scorecard "looks so bad."

Situation Along Israeli, Egypt Border Critical

JERUSALEM (AP)—An artillery duel flared between Israeli and Egyptian forces on the Gaza Strip frontier today. The U. N. cease-fire appeal apparently halted the shooting.

The situation was considered serious enough to cause U. N. truce chief Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns to postpone his departure for Rome, where he was to meet U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld tomorrow. Hammarskjöld had summoned Burns to a conference in Rome as a preliminary to his mission seeking a solution to the Middle East crisis.

Burns issued an urgent appeal for a cease-fire when the Gaza front blazed into action yesterday.

Today's new artillery exchange was reported from the Kissufim sector, where the Egyptians claimed Israeli troops killed 42 civilians and wounded 108 others yesterday. Israeli losses were put at four soldiers and two civilians wounded.

Both Egypt and Israel blamed the Israeli side for a shooting. The Israeli side, a spokesman for the chairman of the Mixed Armistice Commission saying, they had issued cease-fire orders, in compliance with your personal request.

"If Egypt again breaks the cease-fire arrangement, the fire will be returned," the message added.

At midmorning, a U. N. spokesman said "we know there was some exchange of fire at the northern part of the Gaza border this morning, but it is now quiet again."

A report from Cairo said official sources there were unable to confirm the firing had been halted, but reliable reports from Gaza said the exchange was not serious and there were no casualties.

"We cannot understand why the Israelis want to shell the Gaza Strip," an Egyptian official was quoted. "It is not a strategic fortified area. There is almost nothing there except 200,000 refugees."

He said today's firing "appears to have been a local operation involving no crossing of frontiers, but the facts still are not completely known."

Burns had set last midnight as the deadline for compliance with his cease-fire request.

But an Israeli spokesman said this morning an Egyptian position in the Gaza Strip opened up with heavy machinegun fire at an Israeli unit and that the fire was returned.

Kissufim is a collective settlement on the Israeli side of the armistice demarcation line.

An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman said the renewed opening of fire this morning by Egyptian forces constituted a "flagrant breach of the cease-fire agreed upon only yesterday."

The fire, a small blaze at a gasoline station, was extinguished quickly.

Oscar Winner Recalls Much Leaner Days

Suggests State Develop Park

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Interior Department advisory committee has recommended that Arkansas, rather than the federal government, develop the site of the battle of Pea Ridge, Ark., as a park.

The committee made its recommendation to Secretary of the Interior McKay.

The battle of Pea Ridge, in northwest Arkansas was the only major Civil War battle fought west of the Mississippi River.

An Arkansas delegation headed by George Benjamin, Little Rock, recently urged McKay to acquire the site of the battlefield as a historic federal monument. McKay referred the matter to the advisory committee.

Congress also has a voice in the matter of establishing national parks, however, and Rep. Trimble (D-Ark.) said today he will just for congressional enactment of a bill to establish a national park at Pea Ridge despite the committee's suggestion.

"I will ask for early hearings on the bill, the Interior Department attitude notwithstanding," the old a reporter.

Trimble and Arkansas Sens. McClellan and Fulbright, Democrats, have introduced bills to set aside part of the battlefield as a national park.

ing. One of the jobs she took to tide her over between acting jobs was theater ushering. She ushered for a wartime show, "Winged Victory," and one of the stars was Edmund O'Brien.

Miss Van Fleet, who struggled for 10 years with little success, remembered a lot of people who have helped her along the way.

The person who really started her was DeMarcus Brown, drama teacher at Stockton, Calif. When she attended the college, he urged her to try her luck in New York.

"At that time, New York seemed like another world to me," the Oakland-born actress recalls. "But he kept at me until he convinced me to go."

After she won the Academy Award, she telephoned her former teacher to offer her thanks for his help. "This," he said through his tears, "makes up for whatever disappointments I may have had in the teaching profession."

Miss Van Fleet admitted the list of all of those who have helped her along the way would be a long one. Principal among them are director Ella Kaan and producer Cheryl Crawford, "who gave me what I needed when I was at my low points — not money, but hope."

During those lean periods, she worked as receptionist, usher, office worker, even behind a soda fountain. And she taught at the neighborhood playhouse, where she studied when she just went to New York.

It was Kaan who selected her for "East of Eden," her first film and the Oscar winner for her. She had appeared in a couple of his plays and had studied under him at the actor's studio. She did a screen test for him, portraying the dissolute mother of James Dean.

Miss Van Fleet is now doing her fourth film role, "Gunfight at O.K. Corral." Unlike "Eden," "The Rose Tattoo" and "I'll Cry Tomorrow," this one doesn't portray her as a mother. But she's a shady lady again. She's Kirk Douglas' mistress.

She plays her own age this time it's somewhere in the early 30s. It might surprise fans to learn that she is younger than Susan Hayward, who portrayed her daughter in "I'll Cry Tomorrow."

Doesn't See Godfrey Firing Frank Parker

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Last week a fellow told me that Arthur Godfrey was going to fire singer Frank Parker.

"Oh, really?" I said.

Then I remembered that a lot of people might care if Godfrey fired Parker. Rather, a lot of newspaper editors might care. Rather, they'd care if opposition papers had the story and they didn't.

So I said to this fellow, "Where did you hear it?"

"Can't reveal my source," he said.

"Let me put it to you this way: Where were you at the time you heard it?"

"The men's bar of the Waldorf," he said.

This bemused me. It's 10 years since I've been in the men's bar of the Waldorf and I found myself wondering what sort of characters hang out there these days.

"Couldn't you possible tell me who the guy was?" I asked.

"No," said the old friend with a faint smile. "Because I never saw him before."

The same day a columnist carried the story. Possibly the guy at the Waldorf had read the story or possibly the columnist had talked to the guy at the Waldorf. In any event, I couldn't verify the story.

But by last Monday the rumor was all over town. The diligent Associated Press began monitoring Godfrey's programs. In case Godfrey gave Parker the air on the air the news would have moved molten hot on the wires to the world at large.

Everybody has pretty well despaired of much help from me on a Godfrey firing. My reportorial reactions on the subject seem to have atrophied. I figure it's Godfrey's business and I can't get through my thick head that many people besides the person fired really care. When or if the news is announced I'll get it. But it's doubtful if I'll ever get it before it's announced.

However, after some editorial prodding, I want to report that Arthur Godfrey is not going to fire Frank Parker. After talking to a source that always has been pleasant and reliable, I hereby climb away out on a limb and report that all is well between Godfrey and Parker.

If this proves wrong, I've fallen out of higher trees. If this proves wrong, it shows that you always should believe what anybody tells you at the men's bar at the Waldorf.

appearance would be political and demand equal time in the Meyer program. A Meyer aide said the demand had been turned down on the ground the affair is for discussion of interstate problems and not political.

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

In the growth of religions and religious movements from small beginnings Christianity is not unique. Other great world religions, like Buddhism and Mohammedanism, have had a similar history. And in modern times, conspicuous religious movements have had the same developments.

World Methodism, with its immense and numerical and spiritual power, began in a couple of devout Oxford University students, and particularly in the one, John Wesley.

The Mormon empire grew from one man, Joseph Smith though he had amazing successors. Another notable instance is the rapid and widespread growth of Christian Science from the life and writings of Mary Baker Eddy.

The similarity of the growth of various religions and religious movements does not put them on an equal spiritual plane. Nor does the fact of such growth in itself constitute an evidence of inherent integrity and truth.

It would seem, rather, that permanence is because of some inner core of soundness beneath possible error and propagandism. Movements like Dowleism soon peter out.

Was there, then, nothing unique about the growth of Christianity? There was. But it was not the fact that it spread from a small beginning. The uniqueness was in the nature of the beginning from which Christianity developed. The seeds of growth were in the beginning.

The beginning was in spiritual teaching and in a message. It was the Gospel, its very nature impelled one to make it known. Witnessing was of the very essence of the Christian movement from the beginning. And witnessing has been the very foundation of its continued growth and strength.

But the secret of Christianity lay in power as well as in the Gospel - Impelling experience. When Jesus commissioned the Disciples to go and make disciples of all nations, He promised them the endowment of power through the Holy Spirit (Acts 1:8). The fulfillment of that promise was evident in the transformation of a group of lowly disciples into Apostles.

Organization alone could not account for the development of strong churches from harried and persecuted small groups, though organization had an essential role.

Jesus not only taught the Disciples but He trained them and sent them out, two by two, and Luke, 10:1, tells how He appointed "other seventy also," and sent them forth in the same way. That was no small undertaking but an intensive act of organization.

It is this combination of spiritual power and organization that has always made religious movements so effective. It was the power in the Wesleyan movement, which centered in the "Class Meeting."

I doubt whether this old Methodist institution is kept up in Methodist Churches today, but from the time I was able to sit on a chair I went every Sunday after the regular church service to a "class," conducted by an uncle. I have reason to know from experience and recollection the power and influence of such a "class," under a competent leader, mutually encouraging one another. Beyond Wesley's immense activity it was the dominant secret of the growth of early Methodism.

Paraguay Wants Nothing From Russia

ASUNCION, Paraguay (U)—The republic of Paraguay says it is not having any help from Russia, thanks.

Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin made a strong bid last January for increased trade with Latin America. Paraguay urgently needs, foreign trade, investments and technical assistance, but the Soviet offer fell on deaf ears here.

The government suggested in fact, that it would re-examine trade agreements it now has with Iron Curtain countries.

Gustavo Storm, president of the government's Central Bank of Paraguay, declared in an interview:

"Our policy is to carry on our commerce at the highest levels possible with the countries traditionally linked to our economy."

Paraguay, he said, "cannot ignore the fact that the countries composing the Soviet bloc developed a policy of foreign commerce with the main objective consisting, not in the establishment of relations of mutual convenience, but in the ideological penetration of the united front of the free world."

In the year 1945 by his orders an atomic bomb was dropped on Hiroshima on Aug. 6 and—by a quirk of fate and weather—another was exploded over Nagasaki on Aug. 9.

The immortal statistics remain. Without the shedding of one more drop of American blood a stunned Japan, then an enemy, ceased fighting.

No other man since the morning of time had shouldered the responsibility of creating so many deaths in two crisp days.

As architect of the first entrance of American arms into Korea, Truman first won U. S. and then half the world's applause. But, though Congress quickly backed him up, it was he alone who said when the first planes would fly.

The other night, in addressing the Overseas Press Club here, Truman made an interesting off-the-cuff addition to his prepared text.

"Only the President of the United States," he said, "can give the facts about foreign policy because the President of the United States makes the foreign policy and no one else does."

While such a remark has current political overtones, of course, and reflects perhaps what his critics often say is a tendency by Truman toward overstatement, the stern truth is that the authority of an American President in real emergency cannot be checked.

While we have the Congress on the courts, too, it is the president who is the chief delegated leader of the United States. It is he who, in a hurry, can order the Navy to sail, the Marines to land, the Army to march, the Air Force to fly and bomb.

Many Americans are unaware of the full national power and world prestige of the presidency, the tremendous dignity of the office, the critical role a White House decision can at any moment play in their own lives.

But it is important that they should know.

Tucker Files in District 18

LITTLE ROCK (U)—Prosecutor H. A. Tucker of Hot Springs to day filed for Democratic renomination in the 18th District. The district includes Garland and Montgomery counties.

Tucker recently took court action aimed at halting illegal liquor sales and gambling at Hot Springs. His move followed raids on Hot Springs night clubs by state police and agents of the state attorney general's office.

About 80 per cent for U.S. nonfarm people over 65 years old maintain their own households.

DOROTHY DIX

What Chance for Happiness With a Husband Underfoot?

Dear Miss Dix: My husband and I have been happily married for the past 20 years—that is, up until eight months ago when his job was changed. He was put on the night shift permanently. Now here the problem: Is it possible for a man and wife to live happily together with the man underfoot all day long? I have found it to be impossible. I believe there must be many wives faced with the same problem and they also would appreciate a solution.

MRS. P. V.

Answer: Again I appeal to my kind readers for help. Has anyone with a similar problem found a satisfactory adjustment? If so, perhaps their letters will help Mrs. P. V.

When any domestic situation undergoes a radical change, complete readjustment must be made. Preparing dinner for a husband who arrives home at 8 a. m. may be unusual, but it's by no means unheard of. It can be a happy mealtime, too, if the wife accepts it as part of her normal living and doesn't cherish the nagging wish, "Oh, if only I could get ready to go downtown with Susie or Marnie."

If she can appreciate the fact that, with her husband "underfoot" all day, there will be more time together, she has a marvelous chance to recapture the comradeship of honeymoon days.

Added to that is the spirit of adventure that should never die in marriage. With unusual working hours, there are opportunities to do things other couples can't do together. Instead of looking at your husband's presence as a misfortune it. Look for productive ways to spend it.

Finally, when your resentment gets the best of you, look around at the number of women, married 20 years, who have lost their husbands. I'm sure you'll concede then that a husband underfoot is infinitely better than no husband at all.

Dear Miss Dix: I just read your article on a stingy husband. It's true that it is a bad thing, but God forbid that a man should have a stingy wife. How miserable life is living with a miser. No one knows better than the one who has to put up with it.

I have a wife who is selfish and miserly; she doesn't care for a thing except money. When a husband is stingy, it's a bad thing, but God forbid that a man should have a stingy wife. How miserable life is living with a miser. No one knows better than the one who has to put up with it.

1000 Athletes
Enter Meet
at Quantico

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—The Marine Corps Relays — the newest of the outdoor track meets — gets under way here today with more than 1,000 athletes shooting for two dozen assorted titles.

While this was listed simply as a relay meet, it actually was a warmup for United States Olympic candidates, some of whom have been working out here all week.

The entries from the West coast, who have had opportunity to practice outdoors, were the favorites.
They included Parry O'Brien of Los Angeles in the shotput and Lon Spurrier in the half mile.

The center of most of the attraction was young Lee Calhoun of North Carolina College in the hurdles. He tied indoor records in the 50, 60, and 7 yard hurdles during the indoor season.

He never has been up against the best of competition outdoors.
Prospective Olympians were entered in virtually every event on the program, although the mile was conspicuous by the absence of Wes Santee and Ron Delany.

Santee, a lieutenant in the Marine Corps stationed here, is the manager of the meet. This job required him to mingle with some of his arch-enemies in the Arma-tor Athletic Union, the same group which expensed him for life for accepting excessive expenses on some meets last year.

Corporer Hurls
Hogs to Victory

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks switched Preston Carpenter from behind the plate to the pitcher's mound yesterday, and he responded by bunting the Porkers to a 6-1 victory over Oklahoma City University.

In his debut as a college pitcher, Carpenter scattered five hits and struck out 12.

The triumph was Arkansas' sixth of the season against a single loss.

Giambra Fights Sullivan Tonight

SYRACUS, N. Y. (AP)—Determined to fight his way to the top of the middleweight division, Joey Giambra battles rugged Johnny Sullivan of England in a nationally televised NBC 10-round at war memorial auditorium tonight.

Giambra, a 24-year-old Buffalo, N. Y. youth, was a high-ranking 160-pounder until he went into the Army for a 2-year hitch that ended last December.

Giambra fought five times while in the Army. One was with Bobo Olson last summer, while Olson still was champion. Joe made a good showing and got a contract with Bobo for a title fight. That went out the window when Sugar Ray Robinson upset Olson to regain the crown.

Giambra has 42 victories, four defeats and a draw. Sullivan, 23, has won 63, lost 18 and three draws.

Local Track Team Second in Nashville Meet

Coach Leon Turpin's track team took second in a five-team meet at Nashville yesterday which was won by the host crew. Nashville totaled 66 points, Hope 39 1/2, Forman 36, DeQueen 18 and Ashdown 15.

Johnny Nix was first in the 100 yard dash and Perry Purdie was 4th. Nix also came in third in the 220 yard dash.

Charles Ruggles and Steve Crain placed second and third in the mile run.

Philadelphia
a Win From Pro Cage Title

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—The Philadelphia Warriors need only a home court victory tomorrow night to wrap up the National Basketball Assn. playoff championship.

If Pularizin keeps up his 28-point average they should give him the trophy to keep this summer.

The steady Warrior forward scored 30 points last night as Philadelphia outlasted the Fort Wayne Pistons, 1-10, to take a 3-1 lead in their best-of-seven series. His previous totals for the series were, 27 and 27.

In winning, the Warriors broke a four-year jinx. They hadn't beat the Pistons here since February 1950.

The Warriors had to come from behind and then almost blew the decision.

Leading 106-100 with 1:53 to play, they saw the score change to 1-105 with 40 seconds left as Fort Wayne hit a free throw and two field goals. George Dempsey hit a free throw for Philadelphia, and Corky Devlin's long shot for Fort Wayne came a fraction of a second after the gun. It swished through but didn't count.

Veteran Frankie Brian put the punch in the Fort Wayne offense.
He went in during the second quarter when it was a seesaw game and hit six field goals to help the Pistons to a 56-50 halftime lead.

Philadelphia edged back in the third quarter but still trailed 82-80 at the end of the period. Thewarriors took the lead at 88-85 an stayed in front after that.

Free throws were the difference. Fort Wayne outscored the Warriors from the field, 38 to 34.

Calling Time Was a Major Problem

IPSWICH, England (AP)—One night a few weeks ago a saloon keeper bellowed "Time!" right in Wasyli Nimenko's ear. Wasyli was so startled he spilled a pint of beer costing a shilling and seven pence — 29 cents.

Frugal Wasyli, a Ukrainian-born watchmaker, decided on the spot there must be some better way to herald the closing hour than the traditional ear-splitting shouts of "Time!" "Last order!" and
"Come along, please!"

Last night he announced he has invented one: a saloon-closing clock.

Ten minutes before closing time, the clock will play a gentle music box tune, meaning "The hour is nigh."

Five minutes later it will flash amber light and tinkle softly, meaning "Drink up."

And speak on the hour it will display a red light and sound a loud bell, meaning "Close the door."

Score Continues to Look Good for Cleveland

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Of The Associated Press
Young Herb Score apparently has put blinkers on his fast ball, and this could provide just the impetus needed to carry Cleveland to the American League pennan.

If the rival New York Yankees,
Chicago White Sox and Boston
Red Sox have been looking hopefully for signs that the 22-year-old southpaw fireballer may be stricken by the "sophomore jinx," they can find no comfort in spring developments to date.

Score, the American League's " rookie of the Year " and leading strikeout specialist in 1955, continues to live up to his appellation as the "new Lefty Grove."

The towering young lefthander from Lake Worth, Fla., pitched five scoreless innings against the New York Giants yesterday at Copus Christi, Tex., in helping the Indians to their second straight 2-0 shutout. His steaming fast ball under full control, he gave up only two hits and fanned seven.

This marked the second shutout of the spring season for the Cleveland sophomore, who was credited with a 10-0 decision over the Giants March 17, and his fourth victory against no defeats.

But Score's value to the Indians goes deeper than his scoreboard victories.

His sparkling work apparently has built a fire under Cleveland's veterans. Mike Garcia, Early Wynn, Bob Lemon and Bob Feller, and the "Old Barber" from the Giants, Sal Maglie.

Dr. Thackeray drew an X on the map. "This is rendezvous point.
Sheltered cover here — quite isolated. A sentry will be on the hill behind you with a beacon light.
A few minutes before midnight he will blink three times to the submarine. This signal will be repeated every five minutes until the submarine surfaces and returns the signal. A party will row ashore in rubber boats and take you aboard. Is that all clear?"

Everyone nodded.
"Where are you going now, in the Indians' 16 spring victories against 10 defeats.

Cleveland's pitching staff, the key to the team's pennant hopes, seems to be reaching peak form more quickly than most of the team's rivals.
